

We like the current protections we are receiving from Indiana Law, as it relates to screening out unwanted telephone solicitations. I don't think relaxing the protections to some lesser law would be a good thing.